Post-Doctoral Scholar Position

An opening for a Caltech Postdoctoral Scholar position has become available in my group in the area of Direct Numerical Simulation (DNS) and Large Eddy Simulation (LES) of high-pressure turbulent reactive flows. Experience with DNS and LES modeling, Fortran coding and supercomputing is required; a solid background on high-pressure thermodynamics, diffuse interface modeling, and reactive flows is highly desirable.

How to Apply

Applicants should e-mail to me the following material:

1. A complete Curriculum Vitae, with lists of (i) refereed journal publications and (ii) name, address, e-mail and telephone number of at least three references.
2. An electronic copy for each of his/her most recent journal publications.
