Postdoctoral Scholar

An opening for a Caltech Postdoctoral Scholar position has become available in the area of Direct Numerical Simulation (DNS) and Large Eddy Simulation (LES) of high-pressure turbulent mixing and high-pressure turbulent reactive flows. Experience with DNS and LES modeling, coding and supercomputing is required; a solid background on high-pressure thermodynamics and reactive flows is desirable.

How to Apply

Applicants should e-mail the following material:

1. A complete Curriculum Vitae, with lists of
  - i. refereed journal publications; and
  - ii. name, address, e-mail, and telephone number of at least three references.
2. An electronic copy of each of his/her most recent refereed journal publications.
